

V-Gard Winter Liners

Flame resistant (FR) garments are made of special fibers that allow them to self-extinguish when exposed to flame or thermal ignition. Flame resistance cannot be removed by washing. Unlike many other winter liners in the market, all layers of fabric in V-Gard Supreme Liners are flame resistant, affording FR protection throughout the life of the product. For this reason, only V-Gard Supreme Liners offer resistance to arc exposure.

Flame retardant garments have been chemically treated to resist burning when a flame is present. While chemical treatment can wear off after the first wash, all layers of all V-Gard Select products offer flame retardancy up to 50 washings.
